Humana reinstates cost sharing for some COVID-19 treatment

Costs apply without confirmed COVID-19 diagnosis

Effective October 23, Humana will re-apply cost-sharing requirements for members seeking treatment for COVID-19 without a confirmed diagnosis.

Humana will continue to waive all member out-of-pocket costs for covered services for COVID-19 related tests and treatments for members diagnosed with COVID-19 through the end of 2020, including copayments, deductibles and coinsurance.

Once FDA-approved vaccines and medications are available, Humana intends to cover those costs for members with Humana prescription drug coverage.
